YOUR CHOICE, WITH INFORMATION

A model is a beginning.

Choose a reference and adapt the gemstone, material and details to your own story.

Your personal selection

Our offered emerald selection is described as natural, sourced from Muzo, Boyaca, with individual reports from the Instituto Colombiano de Gemologia (ICG). We review the actual gem, its known treatments and available report before confirmation. A report does not automatically identify a specific mine.

Materials and guide prices

Choose 18K gold or Italian 950 silver. Gold-option guide prices appear in COP with approximate USD equivalents; silver is quoted separately. Gemstone, dimensions, construction, accents, fabrication, applicable taxes and delivery are confirmed in your written quote.

USD conversion: COP 3,194.44 per USD 1. Reference date: 13 October 2026. This is not a live rate or guaranteed payment amount. Final currency, total and conversion fees are confirmed in your quote. Exchange-rate source: Wilkinsonpc.

Earrings are priced per pair. Pendant chains are confirmed separately. Bracelet bead, charm and centre prices are components, not complete bracelets. Weight preferences are planning inputs, not measured weights.

References illustrate designs, shapes or components for discussion, not live stock or evidence of gem identity, metal purity or a laboratory report. Review the actual stone and final proposal before ordering.

A personal project.

Mateo Ayala - Founder and person responsible for Nocturne Gems

Nocturne began with my fascination for emeralds, my own savings and a desire to learn. That curiosity became a project: selecting gems, exploring designs and helping people imagine a jewel that means something to them.

Based in Bogota, I lead the project and take responsibility for the brand's conversations, proposals and customer attention. My intention is to listen carefully and make each choice understandable before a client commits.

"The most important part of a jewel is the story you decide to give it."

Art is how the design takes shape. Energy is the emotion a piece carries for its owner. Identity is the freedom to choose something that feels like you.

A connection to Boyaca.

La Pita, Maripi, Boyaca. Photo: Tequendama, 16 July 2016. CC BY-SA 4.0. Regional context, not a Nocturne-owned mine or proof of a particular gem's origin. Resized and encoded without colour changes.

Our fascination begins with the green of the stone and the idea that nature can become something deeply personal. Nocturne brings that fascination into a conversation about you: what you love, what you want to remember and how you choose to express it.

Our offered emerald selection is sourced from Muzo according to Nocturne's sourcing information. The actual stone and its available individual ICG report are reviewed during selection. Geographic provenance and what a laboratory report states are separate questions.

FROM CRYSTAL TO PERSONAL EXPRESSION

The journey of an idea.

Illustrative reconstruction, not the documented history of a single stone or a record of our workshop.

01 / Raw beauty

Assess the rough crystal individually.

02 / Cut and polish

Balance shape and the characteristics of the stone.

03 / Design and setting

Adapt the construction to the selected gem.

04 / Personal expression

Choose the meaning your jewel will carry.

Medium. High. Fine.

Commercial selection options, not universal gemological grades or ICG grades.

The three photographed stones are not assigned individual grades. The category of your selected gem is discussed alongside its colour, size, characteristics, known treatments and price.

Medium

A starting point for a personal emerald project and an accessible budget discussion.

High

A more selective balance of the visual qualities and characteristics you prefer.

Fine

A focused selection for clients with specific visual and quality priorities.
